

Please don't over rule the privacy act. Before the telephone used to ring all the time with solicitors every night before dinner,during dinner, and right after dinner every night. Never failed. After a hard days work that is not what you want, someone interrupting our quality family time. It has been so very nice seeing my tax dollars working for me. I just love this policy.